Profile

Kim's practice covers risk management, particularly in the context of construction projects and corporate investigations.

Kim advises stakeholders on all construction stages of the project cycle, in particular contract administration and dispute resolution. She has supplemented this experience by completing a Masters in Construction Law at the University of Melbourne in Australia. From an industry perspective, Kim was chair of the committee that drafted the 2nd edition of the Society of Construction Law's Delay and Disruption Protocol. She is a Fellow of the International Academy of Construction Lawyers, a Fellow of the Project Management College of Scheduling, a committee member of the Society of Construction Law (Gulf), and a Board member of the International Construction Law Association. Kim is co-editor and a co-author of the Sweet & Maxwell publication "Dealing with Delay and Disruption on Construction Projects", with the 2nd edition to be published soon.

Kim is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and sits as an arbitrator in construction disputes.

Kim is ranked in Chambers Global UAE for Construction: Dispute Resolution, is recognised as a Thought Leader for Construction in the UAE by Who's Who Legal, and was included in the inaugural Legal 500 Arbitration Powerlist Middle East 2023.

Kim also heads our Middle East focused global investigations practice. Kim assists clients in understanding their economic crime and business integrity risks and the development and implementation of effective and proportionate compliance procedures to mitigate those risks. She is ranked in Chambers Global and Who's Who Legal for corporate investigations.
